

Where in the Middle East do scientists research new cures for cancer?

In Israel

Millions of cancer patients everywhere benefit from medical breakthroughs at Israel's universities. Hundreds of universities around the world have exchange programs with Israeli counterparts. As Israel's universities have transformed the country from an exporter of oranges to an exporter of sophisticated technology, the whole world has benefited.