

What do you now call the half of
Israel given up for peace in 1978?

Egypt

What do you now call the half of Israel given up for peace in 1978?
The answer is the West Bank. This area was occupied by Israel in 1967 and is now a subject of international dispute. The West Bank is home to a large Palestinian population and is a key area of contention in the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

SA